MPP 2027 Timetable

Each unit (MPP501, MPP502, MPP504 and MPP561) runs as 2-hour tutorials, online & on campus. Each class has a letter (A to F) for identification, for example MPP501A. Letters are not streams, so you can mix and match across units. Choose one class for each unit that suits you, and check that your choices don't overlap. On-campus students must select on-campus classes (and online students must choose online classes). We do have strict caps on class sizes to maintain teaching integrity; if your chosen class is full you will need to select a different class. All times in the first two tables are Melbourne time; online class times for other states are on page three.

Classes at a glance

Table summary: this table lists the four units (MPP501, MPP502, MPP504 and MPP561), one row per unit. The columns show the class times for Wednesday online, Wednesday on-campus, Thursday online and Thursday on-campus, with the class letter before each time and the room in brackets. Online classes are in Zoom rooms and on-campus classes are in TR1, TR5 or TR6. Each unit has four online classes and two on-campus classes. All times are Melbourne time.

Note on daylight saving

All Melbourne times in this timetable are Australian Eastern time (daylight saving time until 4 April 2027, then standard time). Semester 1 starts during daylight saving, which ends on 4 April 2027. Online class times for South Australia, Queensland, Northern Territory and Western Australia are under “Online class times by state” at the end, with one table for during daylight saving and one for after it ends. New South Wales, the ACT and Tasmania are always the same as Melbourne.

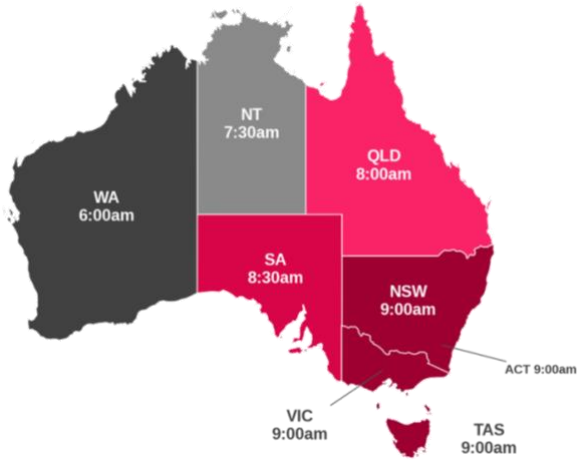

Image description: Map showing the time around Australia when it is 9am in Melbourne. During daylight saving (until 4 April 2027): South Australia is 8:30am, Northern Territory is 7:30am, Queensland is 8am, Western Australia is 6am, and New South Wales, Australian Capital Territory and Tasmania are 9am.

Timetable (Melbourne Time)

Table summary: this grid shows the same classes as the “Classes at a glance” table, laid out visually by day and time, and gives the room for each class. Each row is a 15-minute time slot from 9am to 8:15pm, Melbourne time. The columns are Time, then Wednesday with three Online columns and two On-Campus columns, Time again, then Thursday with two Online columns and one On-Campus column, and Time at the end. Each class shows the class code (unit and letter, for example MPP501A) and the room (Zoom 5, Zoom 13 or Zoom 15 for online classes, TR1, TR5 or TR6 for on-campus classes), and the cell is merged down across the 2 hours the class runs. Columns only group classes for layout and are not streams.
